

Why Surveillance Matters

Disease knows no borders. They travel quickly, broadly, and quietly, creating a perfect storm of vulnerability. CDC works around the world 24/7 as our nation's front line of defense from health threats. Counted on to identify outbreaks and stop them, to find out what works to protect health, and put science into action. America's next health threat could arrive from anywhere. CDC is ready 24/7.